

MILITARY VEHICLES

The March 2020 issue of Australian Defence Magazine is our Military Vehicles special feature with a focus on projects in the land domain. This issue will have a massive spread on all things Land 400 and Army's enabling programs.

Land Warfare with Military Vehicles

This will be a key year for companies working in the Land environment as the Land 400 Phase 3 Risk Mitigation Activity is in the thick of it.

ADM will also look at the artillery and weapons as they relate to the Combined Arms Fighting System and the individual soldier system. As the battlefield becomes an increasingly joint space, ADM will look at the skills and capability Army brings to the fight.

Border Protection and Homeland Security

With the increased focus on powers and capabilities in the Home Affairs portfolio, ADM will examine the role of border protection efforts between Defence and the wider national security community.

From maritime to cyber, this rapidly evolving space is a valuable tool of government in strategically uncertain times.
