

LAND FORCES 2020 GET IN NOW!

Building on the success of past years, the 2020 Land Forces conference in Brisbane on September 1-3 will be a blockbuster event.

ADM has once again partnered with the organisers, and we invite you to advertise, and to contribute editorial ideas.

ADM is the only magazine on Defence's Standing Offer Panel for media services, making it the preferred source of news for the ADF. The September Land Forces edition gives your company the chance to partner with the leading defence trade media brand in Australia.

To assist us to give your promotional material the best position possible both in the magazine and online, we ask that you book early so we can start planning what will be a substantial edition.
