

DEFENCE IN THE NORTH

DEFENCE OF NORTHERN AUSTRALIA

This month, ADM will look at why Australia's north matters for the nation's security in a deteriorating regional environment. We'll also unpack the planned $8 billion investment on Defence facilities in the NT and $2.25 billion into the Australia-Singapore Military Training Initiative.

SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT AND ADDITIVE MANUFACTURING

This month's magazine will cover news in supply chain management and additive manufacturing; a ground-breaking and innovative industry that promises to revolutionise acquisition and sustainment in all areas of defence.

SIMULATION

A second feature length piece in the October edition will cover simulation and its application for enhancing training in the land domain, why and how it can deliver real training outcomes for the ADF, and which emerging developments may have applications in the future.

BATTLEFIELD AVIATION

ADM will also provide an overview of Army's current and proposed battlefield helicopter projects, including a look at platforms about to be replaced and in-service helicopters providing the significant battlefield capabilities Army Aviation depends upon.
